Make an Entrance

Regiment™ doors are the latest development to hit the home improvement market

This stunning range of quality composites doors provide the touch and feel of a traditional timber entrance, with the benefit of next generation products to ensure top safety and security.

With over 25 years experience and a passion for using the finest materials and quality craftsmanship, a Regiment™ door enhances performance in every respect from aesthetics to security, from sound proofing to thermal efficiency. Choose almost any style, colour and finish to suit your home whether traditional or contemporary.

Taking care of the environment

The make up of Regiment only contains products which have been classed as environmentally friendly. They are lead free and CFC free – both of which mean Regiment is less damaging to the environment. Regiment doors are also thermally efficient and manufactured in association with suppliers that are committed to operating with a reduced carbon footprint.

A safe and secure home

Many burglaries are opportunist crimes but it doesn't take much to make your home a safer place and put off thieves. Investing in securing your home can add value to your property, benefit your insurance cover and most of all give you peace of mind.

Faced with a wide range of products it is often difficult to know which will give you the best chance of beating a burglar. The entire Regiment™ range of doors is registered with the national Secured by Design Register which means they are more likely to resist common forms of attack and offer better protection.

Feel safe in your home with a Regiment™ door.

A homeowners low-maintenance solution

No need to paint! If you love the look of timber, but don't have time to maintain a timber door, Regiment™ is for you.

The coloured grain that you see on the surface of the door is an integral part of the door finish rather than a surface applied paint so you will never have to paint again.

The natural alternative

Glass reinforced plastic was first developed during the Second World War.

And it's still the answer today. It's perfect for shielding against the elements, and its inherent strength provides exceptional wind and water resistance. Add the very latest design in locks and it becomes easy to understand why Regiment™ doors comply and surpass all current weather performance and enhanced security tests. Lancer is also available with a rectangular glazing cassette, in the above colour range.
